Imagine a magical, peaceful city of 80,000 happy people that pops up out of a 700-acre Tennessee farm for four days every June. Fill it with multiple stages jumping with 150 acts, music legends and up-and-comers. Along with comedy, film, theater, visual arts, rides, food, fireworks and more. That's one part of what makes Bonnaroo Bonnaroo. The other part—the most important part—is the unique “Bonnaroo vibe.” Bonnarooians form a true community, filled with discovery, generosity, spontaneity, social consciousness and genuine kindness. It changes people in a way that changes the world. Ziggy Marley put it best, “Bonnaroo is not an entertainment thing,” he said. “It’s a people thing.”

Bonnaroo is almost my version of heaven (minus the porta-jons and unwashed masses)! Thousands of sweet ass music lovers seeing shows, making questionable life choices, and getting weird. Hotels and shuttles are offered at various hotels but as someone who has experienced both sides of the hotel / camping coin, camping or rv is the only way to truly celebrated, I can't freaking wait for my next bonnaroo adventure!
